Fine Artist – Jennifer Bilek

www.jenniferbilek.com

Jennifer Bilek is a contemporary American portrait artist. Born and raised in New York City, Jennifer has honed her skills as a painter for over 35 years.

Jennifer studied formally with Vladimir Bachinsky, after receiving a two year scholarship (1981-1983) to study fine oil portraiture at the Woodstock School of Art. She also studied with acclaimed portrait painter Daniel Greene in 1989. From 1984-91 she painted 17 portraits of nationally renowned performance artist, Linda Montano. To say that her portraits are a likeness of her subjects is understatement. Jennifer's portraits are an explosion of perception rendered in physical form and color, intensely honest, and fiercely passionate. Most of her portraits are a part of private collections across the United States and Europe.
